

The church is a community of people sharing a common purpose and fellowship. We are continually growing in faith and in the knowledge of Jesus, the Son of God.

We are called to serve and witness in our local churches and to the communities we live in.

When we do this we are sharing Christ's love and the good news of salvation.

From the record of Christ's life, we receive an indication of the value He has placed upon the young. He selected young adults among the twelve apostles such as John "the beloved".

Those who lead youth and young adults today must see them as an important part of today's church, not the church to come, for they are about the same age as were the founders of Adventism.

Activities and Events

In addition to Sabbath School, youth will benefit from other activities. Work with the group to plan events which will keep interest and involvement alive.

Suggestions include:

- open house in a home once or twice a month. (A Friday night get-together with special topics)
- a Saturday night group activity to foster positive social relationships
- an all-day or weekend outing
- select a community outreach project or plan a mission trip where youth and young adults can demonstrate their faith in concrete ways and act on good intentions.
"Fly 'n Builds" provide opportunities to give service to the mission field. The conference staff will know how to help you make arrangements.
Your local church community services leader will know about needs among the poor in your community. Opportunities exist to "adopt a family" or "adopt a grandparent" or become involved in some other project such as tutoring, health screening, helping the homeless and disaster relief.

The Role of Youth Sabbath School Assistant

The assistant working with youth/young adults serves the most alive, idealistic, inquisitive and promising members of the body of Christ. This is a crucial role for the church!

The importance of this ministry cannot be over-emphasized. This task involves caring for a group of people who are sometimes difficult to accept. Some of them still deal with tremendous changes in their emotions, behaviour, attitudes and beliefs. Some still have not made concrete choices about their vocation. Some are married while many are finding mates and some will be permanently single. An assistant's Christian commitment, unconditional love and support for youth may be tested as they struggle to find their way.

The youth assistant is responsible for:

- working with the leader to select youth whose personalities and temperaments are suited to helping with program
- developing relationships with youth so that they are able to talk openly about challenges they face. This involves a lot of listening and encouragement.
- teaching the lesson and facilitating discussion. A rotation plan that involves youth in teaching and allows skills and learning styles to develop further.
- being willing to give of yourself to others. Enable the group to see that you, too, struggle with problems and search for answers.

- involving youth in activities and conversation
- being committed and reliable

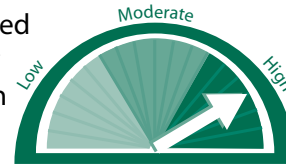

Becoming a Youth Sabbath School Assistant

Time Commitment

- The time demanded for youth ministry is high. In addition to Sabbath morning, you will need to have at least two hours a week for preparation, planning meetings and to make personal contacts.
